

COD LIVER OIL IN A FRESH FORM

Made Palatable and Digestible, and Pleasant to Take.

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG

No More of the Unpleasantness Formerly Experienced in Taking Cod Liver Oil, Because the Chemist Has Obviated These Objections.

The chemist, adding to the sum of human knowledge as the latter years go by, may yet solve the secrets of human existence. In the work that may come to this result he is continually analyzing, separating, building—in his toilsome effort to find what is good and bad, and why. In no branch of chemistry is this truer than in the department of medicine. For many years a drug of natural product may have been thought a specific; the analysis of the chemist demonstrates that it is not the whole, but a part, that contains remedial virtue. If there has been to the whole a difficulty of administration, or an unpleasantness of taste, or some other property that has hindered its common youth, and it be found that the actual medicinal parts may be dissociated from this unpleasantness or difficulty, then the chemist who makes the discovery has proven his value to his race.

No one will dispute the curative value of cod liver oil. For centuries it has been recognized as the grandest of all body-building agents for wasted human strength and vitality.

Heavy Oil Indigestible.

Yet a great deal of the good that should have been derived from its use has been prevented by the fact that many patients who were weakened by disease could not digest the heavy oil, either in its raw form or in an emulsion, and others would not take it on account of its disagreeable odor and taste.

Now modern science has proved that the oil or greasy part has no value whatever either as a medicine or food.

It appears that the medicinal elements, of which there are about fifty different kinds found in the cod's liver, represent all the tonic, body-building and curative powers of this famous old remedy.

After twenty years' study two eminent French chemists, Mourgues and Gautier by name, discovered a way to separate these medicinal elements from the oil and livers, and gave to modern medicine all the valuable part of the cod liver oil, unencumbered by the useless, oily, greasy part.

A preparation containing all these medicinal elements, but entirely free from oil or grease, therefore must be the best tonic reconstructor possible. Such is Vinol.

In no way does Vinol resemble cod liver oil. It does not look, nor smell, nor taste like cod liver oil.

Delicious and Palatable.

Yet Vinol is guaranteed to contain in a highly concentrated form all the medicinal elements actually taken from fresh cod's livers, with organic iron and other body-building ingredients, in a deliciously palatable and easily digested form.

In every case where old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions would do good, Vinol will do more good, for it is immediately assimilated and is acceptable to the weakest stomach; for this reason it is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

The elaborate process employed to separate the medicinal, curative elements from the cod's livers, omitting the oil entirely, is the only secret about Vinol. Its simplicity is its grandest feature, being absolutely free from drugs and injurious ingredients. It is not a patent medicine, as everything in it is named on the label.

Vinol for the last six years has been sold by the leading druggists in all the principal cities of the country, and in most of these stores its sales have equalled, or more, the combined sales of other cod liver oil preparations, which goes to prove its superiority. As a body-builder and strength-creator for old people, weak women, puny children, and after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases, it is guaranteed by over two thousand of the leading druggists of the country to be the best they ever sold. CLAY'S ANTI-OPTION BILL.

Georgia Senator Introduces Important Measure in Senate.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The anti-option and anti-future bill introduced by Senator Clay in line with the action of the cotton planters of the south as expressed at their New Orleans convention, is attracting much attention.

Senator Clay's bill has been very carefully drawn with the idea of avoiding so far as possible the pitfalls which prevented the enactment of legislation along this line in former congresses.

The Georgia senator has given much thought to the subject, and his bill will, he believes, meet the principal objections advanced against former bills, at the same time retaining all the elements of strength of those bills.

He has presented it as an amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill, it being made germane to this bill by the provisions, denying the use of the mails to all letters or communications from persons or corporations bearing upon options or future delivery contracts of the kind prohibited by the bill.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women." The remains were removed to the undertaking establishment of Hilburn & Poole and were carried Monday morning to Kennesaw, Ga., for burial. The dead woman lived on Bush street.

Social Tragedy

Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my system and brought on extreme nervousness and hysteria. I could neither enjoy my meals nor sleep nights, became easily irritated and nervous and very despondent. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. After taking the third bottle, my general health began to improve. At the end of the fifth month I was well and could attend to my household and social duties and enjoy life.

MRS. CHESTER CURRY, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Curry, whose portrait appears on the right, is the leader of the Ladies' Symphony Orchestra. The following letter is from Miss Goode, President of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I tried many different remedies to try to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unseasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since.
